This extraordinary vehicle defines a whole new class on its own. A sports tourer with impeccable performance and handling, the Range Rover Sport accommodates four people in complete luxury while still offering the best in off-road performance, should you so desire.

The subtly flared wheelarches and side vents behind the front wheels point out the difference – this is no ordinary Range Rover. Like its bigger brother, the Sport still has the king-of-the-road driving position that makes the larger Range Rover's cabin so appealing. But there, the similarity ends.
